

THE FREE SOUTH AFRICA MOVEMENT REMEMBERS DR. KING

JAN 15th, 1929—APRIL 4th, 1968

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. appeals for sanctions against South Africa jointly with Chief Albert J. Lutuli on Human Rights Day, 10 December 1962

"We, therefore, ask all men of good will to take action against apartheid in the following manner:

"Hold meetings and demonstrations on December 10, Human Rights Day:

"Urge your church, union, lodge, or club to observe this day as one of protest;

"Urge your Government to support economic sanctions;

"Write to your mission to the United Nations urging adoption of a resolution calling for international isolation of South Africa;

"Don't buy South Africa's products;

"Don't trade or invest in South Africa;

"Translate public opinion into public action by explaining facts to all peoples, to groups to which you belong, and to countries of which you are citizens until an effective international quarantine of apartheid is established."

In a historic address at a meeting at Hunter College, New York, on human rights day (December 10) 1965, the late Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. called for an international boycott of South Africa. The 1965 meeting was organized by the AMERICAN COMMITTEE ON AFRICA — the initiator of the April 4, 1984 National Armband Day Against Apartheid and U.S. Racism.
